First degrees Rebecca were only honorary awards, awarded to wives and daughters of odd fellows on special Lodge, and the recipients were known as Daughters of daughters Rebecca. The name is taken from the biblical character Rebecca. These early daughters of Rebekah did not have their own filing system and operated informally and locally. On September 25, 1868, IOOF voted to create the Rebecca Daughters Degree Lodge, reflecting existing arrangements for its male colleagues. Daughters have been given the right to elect their employees, to charge for initiation, to collect contributions and to carry out charitable and charitable activities. The name was changed to Rebecca's Degree in 1874. Rebekah's teachings and symbolism were designed specifically for women, and her ceremony and lectures are based on the characters of famous women in biblical history. It is named after a woman of early Jewish history whose kindness and hospitality to a humble and unknown stranger best portrayed the nobility and character of women. There are other famous women of biblical history whose characters and virtues form the basis for Rebecca's degree and life lessons to be followed by Rebekah. They were famous for their devotion, patriotism, civil and national services, humanism, devotion to God and the cause of human righteousness. The Rebecca Degree Ceremony is illustrated by the distinctive symbols used in the work of the degree, each of which has excellent value and appropriate application: The Beehive, the representation of the cooperative industry, teaching the benefits of combined effort in all the noble ministries of the Order. The Moon and the Seven Stars represent the never-failing order that permeates the universe of God and all nature, and to offer members the importance of the system, regularity and precision in all worthy endeavors the pigeon, an universally recognized symbol of peace, has this significance in Rebecca's degree. Through a mission of love and mercy, tolerance and tolerance, Rebecca strives to bring happiness to others and to promote peace on earth and goodwill to people. Lily, regarded for unspeakable ages as an emblem of purity, is a fitting symbol of the purity of character, thought, words, and actions that must always be found and manifested in the heart and life of members of Rebekah Lodge. Rebecca Creed I REBEKAH. I believe in the Fatherhood of God, the brotherhood of man and the sisterhood of women. I believe in the senty words of our Order - Friendship, Love and Truth. Friendship is like the golden chain that binds our hearts together. Love is one of our most precious gifts, the more you give, the more you receive. Truth is the standard by which we value people. This is the foundation of our Society. I believe that my main concern should be my God, my family and my friends. Then I must turn to my community and the world. For in the eyes of God we are all brothers and sisters. I'M REBECCA!
